

Ultimate Goal

Ever watch football highlights on TV and think...

Hey, I could do that!

Well football enthusiasts listen up!

The search for the ultimate football TV host is on

Ultimate Goal gives one lucky contender the chance of a lifetime – to be a football star host for Goal TV.

Think you can do better than sports commentary you hear on TV? The new television series, Ultimate Goal gives one lucky contender the chance of a lifetime – to be a football star host for Goal TV.

Goal TV – Asia’s 24-hour premier football network is searching for brand new talent. The winning host will become a household name across Asia, travel across the world and attend the best football games, meet top international football celebrities and also be a spokesperson for Carlsberg.

To top it all, the winner also receives a cash prize of USD$250,000 and a one-year contract with Goal TV.

MAKING IT BIG TIME

Contestants are on the spot, putting their passions, personality and skills to the test. The Ultimate Goal not only seeks sport fanatics, but also anyone who has the drive to be a television host.

Combining sports with entertainment, the first episode showcases auditions of Singapore’s most interesting hopefuls as they set out on the road to TV stardom.

Each week, contestants are given interesting challenges, testing their impromptu hosting abilities. A handpicked panel of industry judges then present their opinions and debate on who to send packing for each episode – elimination is tough.

Reaching the top spot, the final three contestants battle it out for the most coveted job as a presenter for Goal TV during the Grand Finale episode. Not only does the winner get the job of a lifetime, but also a major lifestyle change – this is the Ultimate Goal.
